Submission:

The Atherton Tablelands region does not align in any way with any of the towns and communities in the existing Traegar electorate. Every time there is an electoral boundrey change in Queensland the Atherton Tablelands gets targeted. One day we are in the electorate of Mulgrave, then Mourilyn, then The Tablelands, then Dalrymple, then Hill and now your suggesting Flinders. Wouldn't happen the South East corner of Queensland. I strongly object on the grounds the Tablelands region will not be fairly represented if broken up and shoveled into Mulgrave and Flinders.
