I wish to voice my strong disapproval and disappointment at the proposed abolishment of the Hills electorate.

It seems FNQ, and Shane Knuth, is being relentlessly targeted by the major political parties.

The fact that the LNP submitted the recommendation for the abolishment of Hill, and yet another seat in SE Queensland, smacks of political manoeuvres, not the interests of the populace.

Increasing Brisbane to 60 plus seats, while squeezing the Far North into 12 - TWELVE - seats, is an outrage.

Far Northern politicians already travel long distances on sub-par roads, to meet their constituents, while their southern counterparts have four lane highways to traverse.

It is just so obvious that anywhere beyond the SE corner is irrelevant to the major parties, and the Electoral Commission is greasing their wheels.

Shame, shame.

Respectfully,

Margaret Bunce,

Constituent of Hill.
