I am concerned that the much of the proposed redistribution does not appear to reflect a practical approach to meeting the needs of constituents, and instead often involves consolidating disparate communities that do not appear to share similar infrastructure, interests and therefore serves to dilute representation for many constituents.

Furthermore, proposed changes appear to be driven by consolidating areas to enact a shift towards LNP-biased districts which do not effectively represent the underlying preferences.

This all serves to erode the integrity of Queensland democracy and is counter to the findings and recommendations of the Fitzgerald inquiry.
