I have multiple objections to multiple of the new proposed electoral boundaries on this draft map.

Firstly, the seat Kelvin Grove and Herston are extremely close to the CBD. They both feel like an entirely separate community to the rest of the seat of Stafford which is primarily Northern Suburban communities. It just doesn't feel like a cohesive community within the seat anymore.

Secondly it seems redundant to name a seat after Caboolture despite it only taking in HALF of Caboolture and having it stretch extremely up North. Either incorporate the entirety of Caboolture within this new seat or name it something else.

Lastly, and this is my biggest issue with the map: Zillmere is now split between 3 seats. This could cause major voter confusion as people living a few minutes from each other could be voting for 3 separate MPs. Voters may not know who to reach out to if they need to contact their MP.
