Submission:

All First Nations named electorates should remain in tact to stop the confusion and frustration from members of those electorates, and to stop the deliberate attempt to erase First Nations history from this Nations identity. Instead, we should be embracing the diverse First Nations Cultures that have existed here for generations. Other ethic groups are often celebrated with their holidays and religious practices annually. Yet, First Nations customs, practices and knowledges are undermined and unappreciated.

Removing First Nations names of places is a complete disrespect to the people who have nurtured and continue to sustain these lands long before European arrival.
