To whom it may concern,

I am writing after hearing about the plans to remove the electorate of Hill.

The area proposed for the electorate changes is huge, accessing our local members will become much harder.

The far north will be less represented while the the south east corner gets more representation. This hardly seem fair to the people of north Queensland.

We are already struggling with getting existing infrastructure up here repaired while constantly hearing about all of the new projects for down south. Losing another seat up here will only make this situation worse as our local members will have huge areas to fight for and things will fall by the wayside while they priotise their battles. Meanwhile the south east corner members onlt have to keep track of a few suburbs or towns.

Please remeber there is more to queensland then the south east corner and we need to be represented fairly.

Thanks
Bevan Leinster
